

K-Love serves me as a resident in my community by giving my family a radio station that consistently supports our religious beliefs and encourages us to live a positive lifestyles.

If K-Love were to be displaced by LPFM, that would leave us with only 1 other Christian radio station to listen to. Choice is an American value.

Continueing to have K-Love as a FM station is in the best public interest because it fullfills a need of Christian fellowship and support. Also, I can let my kids listen to it without the worry of innapropriate content being announced.

When there are a bunch of downright indescient radio stations fithying the air waves, I think FCC time may be better used regulating public descency rather than thinking about cuttting out something positive and encouraging such as K-Love.
